7. Maintenance

- Inspect the cabinet regularly to ensure all screws, hinges, shelf supports, and door hardware remain secure, tightening them as necessary. Clean the cabinet using a soft cloth and a mild detergent solution, then dry all surfaces thoroughly.

DO NOT use abrasive cleaners, solvents, or corrosive chemicals, as these may damage the finish.

- Keep the cabinet free from dust, dirt, oil, and other workshop contaminants, and periodically lubricate the hinges and lock mechanism with a light machine oil to maintain smooth operation. Ensure shelf loads are distributed evenly and do not exceed the intended capacity. If the cabinet forms part of a modular storage system, check all mounting and connecting fixings regularly. Store and use the cabinet in a clean, dry indoor environment and promptly repair any damaged finish to help prevent corrosion and extend the product's service life.
